Fall Edition

October 2008

We have several new additions to our practice we are very excited to share with you! Please read below to learn about Dr. DeBuys, online office communication, Evolence, and anti-aging products. Fall is the perfect time to resume or start your rejuvenation program. Our various chemical peels and Fraxel can really help restore your skin from the aging sun exposure we have all received.

Holly DeBuys, MD

Dr. DeBuys joins us from Charlotte, NC where she has been practicing dermatology in a large multispecialty clinic. We searched for over a year to find just the right replacement for Dr. Aranda who is departing us for a position at Harvard. Dr. DeBuys was recently voted as a "top doc" in Charlotte and is very accomplished in the field of dermatology.

Online Office Visits & Communication

We are very excited to be able to offer email correspondence for our patients regarding prescription refills, nurse questions, bill payment, and online office visits. We know our college students and patients who travel frequently have a hard time with follow-up visits.

You may now take advantage of an online visit that will allow you to attach photos of your problem or concern and provide us with a medical history. We will also begin to send your lab results to your provided email. Just go to our website and login as a new account to see what we have available. www.southlakedermatology.com
